Clear Design Launches new COVE Pod Line with a Modern Design

PRIVATE WORKSPACES HELP PEOPLE FIND THEIR FOCUS OR COLLABORATE WITH PEERS.

Clear Design announced an all new COVE Office Pod product line with three styles of privacy pods: the Phone Booth, the 2-Person Pod, and the Room Pod.

Make the most of square footage with soundproof, high-end workspaces that can be installed nearly anywhere in the office. Each pod provides a comfortable, enclosed, ventilated, and powered workspace for private phone calls, one-on-one meetings, or collaborative brainstorming.

“We’re very excited to launch the new COVE Pods and provide our partners with versatile solutions for flexible workspaces while maintaining a 5-day lead time,” said Founding Partner Luke Warrilow.

“The flexibility of the Room Pod is very exciting because designers can customize it by adding lounge seating, a standing-height collaboration table, a small table with chairs, or even a BOOST workstation to create a private office. There are so many options for making it what you need for the space.”

A smart long-term investment for providing multiple workspaces without expensive construction costs, the GREENGUARD Certified COVE Pods are constructed of multiple layers of electro-galvanized steel and acoustic panels to keep all conversations private and create a distraction-free work environment for the rest of the office.

Other features and benefits of COVE Office Pods include:

- Plug-and-play power
- Dimmable lighting with motion sensor
- Standing-height surface (in Phone Booth)
- Table and soft seating (in 2-Person Pod)
- TV Mount for up to 42" models (in Room Pod)
- All Pods include power outlets, integrated airflow ventilation, and cutouts for sprinklers. BoF
